June 2021

Well, gunfunit! Somewhere in the last 15+ months the dog ate all my PSL files off the computer Years and years of PSL stuffs gone bag. Luckily, I have a backup hard drive. I think it's all here now but who knows. September 2019 was the last newsletter recovered.

As you remember last month, we only had 4 persons and not worth a newsletter. This month we're up to 10. Worth a page at least.

Capt. Billy called the meeting to order. As noted, Greg was out again. I offered to have Sophia, our lovely waitress bring him a straw for his beer so he could avoid heave lifting but not enough incentive. If you have to offer people a million dollars just to get a shot that will save your life, I doubt a straw will do it. Greg did email a report. "The beer savings account (aka the PSL bank account) stands at $1811.36 plus $110 +/- in cash (we have some change that I am too lazy to count)." End of report.

Misc. everyone talks at once about anything Dept: Collector plate scuttlebutt is that there is discussion in our capital to make the plates only free for 5 years.

Swap meet is scheduled for Oct 9-10. We have 6 spots. Linda (bless her) is taking care of getting us registered.

A Pig Out was discussed and although a majority wanted one, it was decided to wait until next month, (maybe this is correct, maybe not).

Picnic: This one is more or less partially possibly correct too. Debbie wants a picnic at her place Jul/Aug. August will be a busy month. More to come, naturally.

Todd will be at the track with his newly modified race car July 10th. The races go from 5-10pm. Everyone invited. He also has a '53 Ford frame for free. A substantial discount to club members can be applied if that is too high.

The big 11 bucks from the 50/50 was won by somebody, maybe Wayne. Not fair if it was him. He won only 21 months ago....

Like it says on the back of Dave's truck, "You can't fix stupid".

From the ongoing saga of Pooh Bear, the bear of very little brain....

First little problem to arise is that idiot I hired to drive Ms Daisy down here to California. He is dumber than my mechanic. #2 is the gps lady and while I have nothing against mechanical ladies or inflatable ones for that matter, both of us will kill her if we get the chance. She sent us down 40 miles of bad road that my idiot driver followed. Somewhere while bouncing along the 4 miles in and 4 miles out the back brake line broke. We finally got back to the correct park and wiped out a fresh bottle of wine, named appropriately Happy Camper. So in beautiful downtown Crescent City we waited out the day and night in Les Schwab' parking lot. A lovely 18 wheel serenade from Hwy 101 only 10 feet behind us intertwined with the bass from the unloading and parking of wrecked cars next door was only slightly minimized in quality by the professional vibrato of the town drunk. If the car and trailer arrive home without me DO NOT call the constabulary. Any court would declare it a justifiable homicide... Your mate (in case I don't return) h
